Join us for a day when the only certainty in uncertainty. You know when it starts but the end is always anyone's guess. A set of directions and hopefully a good navigator will take care of the rest. It is highly recommended that an adult navigates the directions for you as you drive.

This will make things much easier on you.

So load the family up, yes this is a family event, and be sure to fill up your tank for a little adventure. If everything goes right we will see you at?????? Did you really think we would let you know?
